SGA CARNY WEEK

LU Has President

It's been a long year and a half at Laurentian since we had a President to head and represent the school. Now, after a gruelling and extensive search the Presidential Search Committee without a dissenting vote, recommended Dr. Ross H. Paul, Acting President of Athabasca University. Senate met last Monday night to vote on this appointment. The results were 42 to 2 in favour of Dr. Paul. The Board of Governors then met and approved the appointment.

Dr. Paul received his B.A. at Bishop's University in Economics/Mathematics, and went on to McGill to receive his Masters in Education Administration. His Ph.D is in Comparative Education, received at the University of London.

From 1976- 1977, Dr. Paul was the Dean of Arts (Selby & Viger Campuses) at Dawson College, a CGEP in Quebec. 1977-1980 saw Dr. Paul as the Academic Dean at Dawson College. From there he moved to Athabasca University where he was Vice-President Academic for ten years. During this 1990-1991 school year, Dr. Paul is the Acting President at Athabasca University during the leave of the current President. Dr. Paul will start his term as President of Laurentian in July of this year.

The Report of the Presidential Search Committee strongly recommended Dr. Paul. "Dr. Paul is articulate in both languages, although, at this point in time, he appears more comfortable in English...the Committee is confident in his commitment to fluency."

LOCS Goodwill Appeal

Every student of Laurentian University pays a fee of $10.00 as a part of their tuition. The students that are registered in a Professional School pay their money immediately to that school. The students in arts & sciences must choose a College of Affiliation. The Colleges are set up by denomination, and they provide academic counselling and bursaries for the students registered in the college. At present the students that are not in residence do not see any return for their money.

While the table of council presidents work on coming up with a funding proposal for the 91-92 school year Laurentian Off-Campus Students (LOCS) have asked the college residences for money to make our formal successful. As it stands we have been turned down by 3 residences.

When asked why the residence councils did not approve the LOCS request for funding the responses were as follows:

University College President Terri MacMillan stated that "the main reason was overspending on the residence". She went on to say that "the formal last year lost $4,000.00" I asked her if the formal this year would likely lose that much as well and she agreed that it would.

In the 90-91 school year UC will receive approximately $11,000.00 from the college fees alone, the most college money received by a residence. University College has 250 people in residence.

Thorneloe College President Angela Lafkas stated that there was an overall lack of money, and the college council was on a shoestring budget. She also added that they try to make their formal break even.

In the 90-91 school year Thorneloe will receive approximately $1,840.00 from the college fees, they have 54 residents.

Huntington College President Todd Ryan stated that the council did not have any extra money, they lost $2,400.00 dollars in advertising that did not get paid for in their last years yearbook. Students in residence get the yearbook free from their activity fee. When asked if the activity fees for the residents are separate from the college fee funds he stated that they were not separate at Huntington.

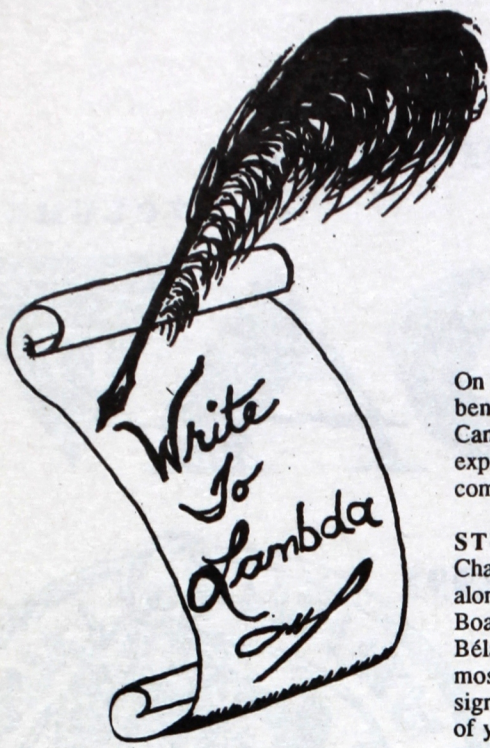

In the 90-91 school year Huntington will receive approximately $3,300.00 from the college fees, they have 169 residents.

University of Sudbury did not respond in time for this publication. In the 90-91 school year University of Sudbury will receive approximately $9,200.00 from the college fees, they have 170 residents.

Profs Don't Want Forced Retirement at 65

(Source: The Varsity, University of Toronto)

by Clive Thompson

TORONTO (CUP) -- The Supreme Court of Canada's December decision to uphold mandatory retirement policies at universities has dismayed some professors.

The court ruled that although mandatory retirement at age 65 constitutes discrimination, it is acceptable in light of the social and economic problems that would be caused by its absence.

Ontario professors disagree. The Ontario Confederation of University Faculty Associations (OCUFA) -- which helped fund the court challenge -- says mandatory retirement will drain even more professors from a province that is already facing an impending shortage.

"With us, it's a problem of not having enough qualified people to fill the new positions," said OCUFA president Bill Graham, adding that one quarter of the present faculty will be gone by the year 2000.

Eight professors and one librarian had challenged mandatory retirement policies at Guelph, Toronto, Laurentian and York universities. In British Columbia, hospital and community college workers also challenged their employers.

They hoped to prove the policies violated the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, which protects individuals' rights with respect to all governmental activity.

But in addition to upholding mandatory retirement policies, the court also decided universities are not governmental organizations and as such are not even covered by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms in the first place.

Administrators at the University of Toronto welcomed the decision.

"We've always believed there is a critical link between mandatory retirement and our ability to attract new faculty," said Alec Pathy, U of T's vice president in charge of Human Resources.

"We were pleased that the court recognized the autonomy of the university," he added.

Graham, however, feels mandatory retirement is discrimination that will force older, skilled professors to end their careers.

"It's sort of demeaning in a way for a person who wants to work past the retirement age," he said. Roughly five per cent of faculty usually want to work past the limit, he added.

AIESEC

QUESTION : WHAT IS AIESEC?

ANSWER : Is the French Acronym that stands for INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE AND ECONOMICS STUDENTS.

- the opportunity to gain experience in organizing events, fund raisings, develop your interpersonal and leadership skills, and get contacts in the business world.

QUESTION : DO I HAVE TO BE A COMMERCE OR ECONOMICS STUDENT TO JOIN?

ANSWER : Absolutely not. This was the original intention when the Association was formed. Students from all faculties are invited to join.

In addition it makes a difference later on, when you are out there trying to get a job, since extra curricular activities are crucial to any employer. Most probably your interviewer heard about AIESEC or was a member him/herself, giving you an advantage over other applicants.

QUESTION : WHAT DOES AIESEC HAVE TO OFFER ME?

ANSWER : - traineeship programs in various companies.
- national and international conferences where you meet people from all over the country and all over the world.

Furthermore, its not only work, work and work. There's lots of partying. It can be as much fun as you want.

QUESTION : HOW DO I FIND OUT MORE ABOUT AIESEC?

ANSWER : Give us a call at 673-5770, or drop by our office in the "SMALL BUSINESS COUNSELLING" Portable.

LOCS HISTORY

Laurentian Off-Campus Students had existed in the past but had little success, and there was never anything done for the new students at the school. After contacting Dr. Paddy Blenkinsop (Director of Student Services), Dr. Charles H. Bélanger (Interim President), and Mark Green, vice president of SGA, the off-campus students frosh week program was approved and funded.

In the process of running Frosh Week 1990 several problems occurred. There were no previous records of how to organize things so we ran into difficulty on several items. The first major problem had to do with our T-Shirts for the frosh. Part of our agreement with SGA was that we would put the SGA logo on our t-shirts to show that they were funding us. SGA wanted their contribution to be easily visible. Due to an oversight the SGA logo was left off the t-shirts for which we apologised.

Frosh week started with LOCS putting an information/ registration flyer in the University mail out to all new students. The mail-out told new students there would be an orientation program for all off-campus students. We planned our events so that they would take into consideration the new OSIS high school system. This program consisted of several non-alcoholic events for both minors and those with age of majority. LOCS sold Frosh Kits at $25.00 which included 33 different items. LOCS frosh took part in the Scuff & Buff program for Big-C. Currently we are working on a Sleigh Ride and the year end formal at Cassio's.

This year we hoped to get voting rights on SGA Council but constitutionally SGA can not permit this to happen. When our motion did come to the table we thought it had already been dismissed and moved for its removal based on a point of consideration. The discussion that ensued was based solely on ignorance of the situation by all involved.

The goals of LOCS as taken from the constitution of the organization as following (paraphrased).

- To increase awareness & participation of off-campus students.

- To maintain a voice on-campus for the students off-campus.

- To work cooperatively in conjunction with other university councils.

- To provide and encourage social activities among the anglophone and francophone students.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership is available to any student of Laurentian university who resides off-campus who purchases a membership. They may be either full-time, part-time, or mature students.

Brothers, went to Sudbury Downes free admission and buses, had a full ev day and Bar-be-que on the Friday.

Since Frosh week we have represented the off-campus views within the university community and organized Christmas Bowling and Billiards party

HONORARIUM

The executive will decide on a honorarium for the president from the profits from the frosh kits. This amount will not exceed $1000.00 based on:

- the number of hours put into frosh week

- losing 2 weeks employment from frosh week preparations

- having to pay an extra month rent

OBJECTIVE FOR EXPANDING LOCS

LOCS do not want to be an alternative to the SGA or AEF, but we want to be recognized by the university and complement the two organizations. Hopefully with the organization getting approximately $5,000.00 from the college fees next year and the amount increasing annually the organization will expand to reach the largest portion of the student body, all off-campus students.

This is the proposal that Laurentian Off-Campus Students have presented to the table of council presidents. The group consists of the presidents of all the residences, the presidents of the Professional School Councils, a SGA rep., and the LOCS president, chaired by the co-ordinator of student services. This proposal was not approved because of the concern of the viability of LOCS.

PROPOSAL

1) During the academic year of 1991-1992 the fees continue to be collected by the university as a part of the students incidental fees.

2) During the registration process the students involved in the arts and sciences still pick their college of affiliation for application for scholarships and academic counselling.

3) The allocation of funds are to be administered through the registrars office in the following manner.

a) The funds for the professional schools will still be distributed as $10.00 per student registered in the school.

b) SSR & MSR be given $10.00 for every Undergraduate in res.

c) UC, US, Huntington, Thorneloe. College be given $10.00 for each student in their residence.

d) The four colleges be given additional funds in the following manner to gradually integrate the new system.

i) 1991-1992: Additional $10.00 per residence place.

ii) 1992-1993: Additional $7.50 per residence place.

iii) 1993-1994: Additional $5.00 per residence place.

iv) 1994-1995: Additional $2.50 per residence place.

4) If excess funds exist, the funding shall be evenly distributed by a proposal agreed upon by the council of presidents.

5) i) The residue be given to LOCS

ii) The co-ordinator of student services will act as overseer for locs funds.

iii) The policy will be reviewed annually.

LAURA AND CHIN

Fellow Students:

Deadlines suck.

To all those students confused by the name of our infamous winter carnival (i.e. Laura & Chin). 'Laura & Chin' said very quickly somehow becomes 'Laurentian'. The Hecklers have just heard that all of the Valley Boyz must now wear bathing suits when they shower. It's not polite to look down on the unemployed.

Da Hecklers would like to welcome the Mountain Men to Lambda. We enjoyed their well written article and look forward to their future articles.

The recent cold temperatures have been taking their toll on everyone. many people have been suffering from raisin bag or even worse testicles creeping up inside their body cavity to keep warm. Women also have been walking around with their arms crossed to avoid displaying NPO's.

Our dog has also suffered the embarrassment of being stuck to a fire hydrant. We also say the Valley Boyz stuck to a fire hydrant or maybe it was to each other's legs. All we know is that it was something yellow.

In other news, the PGA tour may have to take some time off as there is now a golf crisis.

We recently received a top ten list from a reader and thought that we might share it with you.

A DREAM

I had a dream last night
I dreamed I had to pick a mother out
I had to choose a father too.
At first, I wondered what to do.
There were so many there, it seemed;
Short and tall and thin and stout.

But just before I sprang awake,
I knew what parents I would take.
And this surprised and made me glad.
They were the ones I always had!

The Basketball Beat : Back with Lack

By Jay Lack

Well, another weekend, another four wins. Ho hum! Yes, both the Lady Vees and Voyageurs continued in their winning ways this past weekend.

On Friday night, the Lady Vees embarrassed the Ryerson Lady Rams (or would that be Ramettes?), but knew that their live test would come the next day against Toronto, who were ranked eight in Canada.

Toronto hung tough for much of the game, and made the Lady Vees earn every rebound. The Vees pressure defence was not as dominant as usual - Toronto showed great poise - but on this day the Lady Vees transition game was simply unstoppable. The pressure 'D' wore down U of T to the point where they just couldn't keep up with Sue Stewart, who ran the floor like a certain Canadian sprinter, who also won on Saturday. Stewart gained M.V.P. honors for her 25 point effort, leading the National Champs to an impressive 77-66 victory. The Lady Vees now have seven wins and no losses, and should improve upon that mark when they entertain Carleton and Ryerson this weekend.

As for the Voyageurs, the team showed some true character this weekend.

On Friday, the guys were horrendous, and actually trailed Ryerson by three at the half. After shooting only 27% in the first period, Laurentian stormed back thanks in large part to an outstanding rebounding effort by big Walter Johnson. Rod Gilpin held the hot hand in the second half to finish with 19 points, and Walter's twelve rebounds carried L.U. to an 83-66 win. While it was a little too close for comfort, the game was over and preparation began for the big one on Saturday against arch-rival Toronto Blues.

It had been five years since the Voyageurs had a win at Toronto. That jinx, coupled with the fact that Carleton had upset Toronto on Friday, placed a huge load on the shoulders of the team, as Toronto would be gunning for the front-runners. Add to that the pressure of playing in front of a live T.V. audience in Southern Ontario, and one can imagine that the Toronto Sports Gym felt like a pressure cooker on Saturday afternoon.

When game time finally arrived, Toronto came out flying, owning the boards and scoring at will from the point. At halftime, Blues led 46-37, but Laurentian didn't seem flustered. They came out in the second half and took charge. The team dug down and played what was in all probability, their best twenty minutes of basketball this season. Norm Hann, who had been in a mini-slump, exploded to count 32 points, and Hot Rod Gilpin buried 22, including four 3-pointers. Once again, the defence came up big and held Blues to a measly 23 point in the second stanza. Storm received M.V.P. honors for his terrific play, but this was truly a team effort with each member playing his role to near perfection.

The Voyageurs now sit atop the O.U.A.A. Central at 8-0, and look forward to four consecutive home games starting this weekend. Tomorrow, Carleton Ravens visit the Ben Avery Gym, and McGill RedMen are here Saturday night. Both games begin at 8:00 p.m. An S.G.A. rep has said that both games should be over by the time the concerts start on Carny Weekend, so come on out to the basketball games FIRST, to cheer on the best basketball program in CANADA!!!
